

Barely Saved

“Now "If the righteous one is scarcely saved, where will the ungodly and the sinner appear?"”
(1Pe 4:18 NKJV)

If you are confident in your salvation, if you truly have been born again, then shout to the heavens praise to the almighty for your good fortune is beyond compare. It is with difficulty that your seal has come. The righteous one is scarcely saved.

Do not let your salvation become a thing of pride or prejudice for the only righteousness you have come from God. Without His intervention in your life, without His regenerative work in your life, you would perish like the ungodly.

Remember this, if we are scarcely saved, the ungodly sinner has no hope at all. Surely judgment will fall on him without mercy.

How should we conduct ourselves towards those living dead men? Will you remain indifferent? Will you think yourself better than they? Will you stand in judgment over them? God forbid that we would have an attitude of self-importance. Except by the grace of God there go all of us.
